Easy Query

Why EasyQuery
is a right tool for you?

Reduced time and cost of development

The similar functionality developed "from scratch" will cost you at least 10 times more then the price of EasyQuery.NET license since even minimal features provided by our components will take about 300-400 hours of developer work.

Customer satisfaction

The most valued attainment - is a good opinion about your product from its users. We have very good reviews from the developers who already use EasyQuery. In most cases their customers love new UI for query building and are happy with new abilities provided by it.

No more headache about user requests for new reports

Your users will be able to extract necessary data without your assistance so your support department will be able to switch on more important tasks.

Easy integration with you current code

You will not need to re-design your project or make changes in your database. There is no any limitation for using third-party components. Even more: EasyQuery will be very good addition to any data presentation control or reporting tool.

Reasonable price policy

You pay only once – for developer license (single or site). There is no any additional fee (e.g. "per installation", ""per user, "per server", "per processor", etc.)

Moreover, all registered users of EasyQuery get free 1 year software maintenance subscription which includes free support and upgrades for any new version release during this period.
